

Sorbonne University (SU)

Sorbonne University does not apply differentiated fees for foreign students: only the membership fees of the University in which the candidate is registered will be paid by the student.

These questions must be determined when establishing the partnership and constructing the joint diploma.